

DAENA WEEKS

“Sweet mother’s grace,
whispers made of earth & bone,
sweet mother’s soul.
In the ashes of her warm embrace,
a sprout of faith that knows no end,
it grows and it grows,
oh how it grows.”

Daena Weeks is a singer-songwriter and guitarist from the desert lands of Namibia. Embarking on a never ending journey of curiosity and discovery inspired by the diversity of art within our time, her music is earthy, raw and humble as she shares music infused with a whole ‘lotta soul.

In 2016 she released her debut album entitled Sowing Seeds and her latest EP Daena & the Weeks go by is now available on iTunes, Spotify & Amazon Music.

Dae has toured to South Africa, Germany, Norway, Sweden and Malawi and continues to tour worldwide to share her desert melodies. Festivals that she has played include The Lake of Stars, Afro Arts Festival, Rocking The Daisies, Moyn Moyn, Orion, Heimdalen, Tea in the Tree and many more.

This is only but the start of her lifelong musical journey.
